Subject: Official request to join the National Delegation of (name country) at the 76th World Health Assembly

Your Excellency,

I hereby write to officially request to join the national delegation which will represent (name country) at the 76th World Health Assembly, taking place at the World Health Organization headquarters in Geneva from Sunday 21st of May to Tuesday 30th of May.

In 2022, the WHO Director-General, Dr. Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, at the World Health Summit in Berlin, emphasized the crucial role of parliamentarians in advancing global health. He stated: “Parliaments will also play a key role in strengthening the global health architecture, in the areas of sustainable financing and developing and implementing the international accord for pandemic preparedness, prevention and response.”

Indeed, parliamentarians are uniquely positioned, through their core roles of law-making, budgeting and oversight, to transform societies to enable everyone to have access to the health services they need; especially those of women, girls and adolescents; and by eliminating the drastic inequalities that exist today.

Overall, the participation of parliamentarians at the WHA can have a significant impact on global health policy and decision-making and bring the perspectives and experiences of their constituencies to the table, advocating for policies that can improve health outcomes for all.

With (number of) years of active service in Parliament and responsibilities in (state reforms and initiatives related to health), I believe I would be a great asset to complete your delegation and an added value to the debates.

I thank you very much for your attention and look forward to hearing your response soon.

Your Sincerely,
(Name and title)
